FIVE DIVORCES WERE GRANTED

Two Husbands and Three Wives Were Petitioners Before Superior Court—Soldier Had too Many Loves—Wife of Mystic Man Stays in Germany—Too Much Mother-in-law in One Case.

Divorce cases on the uncontested list were taken up in the superior court here on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after the jury had retired to deliberate upon a verdict in the $4,000 suit of Adolph Notke against the Central Vermont railroad.

Five of the seven on the list were taken up, and in each Judge William L. Bennett granted the petition, two husbands and three wives thus obtaining freedom from marital bonds that had proved irksome.

He Just Left.

Mrs. Julia Laviole of New London was granted divorce from George Laviole of parts unknown. The grounds were desertion.

She testified that they were married on Nov. 22, 1904, in Nashua, N. H. She had lived in Nashua since she was a child and lived in Nashua for two years after the marriage.

On July 2, 1906, her husband deserted her at Nashua. She lived there for three months afterwards. She didn't know any reason for his leaving.

He just left. She didn't know where he went to, although she inquired of her husband's mother, but did not find out. The couple had one child that died when it was 6 years old.

Five or six years after the desertion a friend of Mrs. Laviole said that her husband had never seen him since nor ever received any money from him for her own support or the support of the child.

For the last six or seven years Mrs. Laviole has supported herself in Norwich, and also lived in New London.

Mary A. Michaud of Brooklyn, N. Y., a sister of the petitioner, testified she was living in Nashua and knew of the desertion.

She said that Mrs. Laviole had never lived with her husband since the desertion and that she has supported herself.

Mary Dorsey of this city testified that for about a year five or six years ago Mrs. Laviole came to work with her in Boston.

She saw her husband once in the west, he told her that he didn't want to live again with his wife. She was a good woman, but he had been in the west, he said, and he intended to go back there.

The divorce was granted with change of name to Julia Doherty.

Wife's Parents to Blame.

Nathaniel J. George of Groton, who petitioned for divorce from Laura Sweet George, testified that he was married to Derry, N. H., testified that his wife left him in May, 1911. Up to that time they had been living in the same house as his mother.

He blamed his mother-in-law for his wife's leaving. He said he never gave her any occasion for leaving.

To the questions of Judge Bennett, Mr. George said that his wife came to the house with a wagon and moved her things away and went to her mother's. He had since asked her to return, but she said she wouldn't.

Mrs. Eliza J. George of Haverhill, Mass., mother of the plaintiff, corroborated his evidence as to the circumstances of leaving, and Mrs. Alice J. Leach of Derry, N. H., his sister, testified that it was the wife's parents who were the only cause for the desertion.

Attorney Warren Burrows was counsel for the petitioner, who was given divorce on the grounds of desertion.

Had Girl in Haverhill.

Panagiotis Karapanagiotis of this city brought suit for divorce from John Karapanagiotis of Haverhill on the grounds of adultery.

The petitioner testified that her husband lived with her two and a half of three months after their marriage in Norwich on May 27, 1911, but he then left her. He had been twice arrested, once for a fight with the petitioner's brother, who met the husband walking with a girl on the street, and another time he had been given a nine month sentence for enticing a minor female.

Assistant Clerk of the Superior Court, Hilbert R. Norman produced the court record.

George Rappas testified that he had been in Haverhill, where he saw John Karapanagiotis walking on the streets with a woman across the street and had told that they were living together in Haverhill.

Peter Selias acted as interpreter in the case and Attorney H. H. Pettit was counsel for the petitioner, who was given divorce on the grounds of adultery.

Wife Stays in Germany.

The divorce suit of Henry J. Rathmackers of Mystic against Wilhelmina M. Rathmackers, now of Creffield on Rhine, Germany, was presented by Attorney Hinckley. They were married on May 4, 1895 in Germany. Divorce was asked on the grounds of desertion.

The first witness called on was Miss Maria A. C. Rathmackers of Mystic, the 18 year old daughter of the petitioner. She testified that her parents went back to Germany after some residence here and that in September, 1911, her father returned to this country. She stayed with her mother. In October, 1911, her father sent her mother $500 and asked her to join him in Mystic. The mother kept the money but refused to return.

The witness testified that she knew her mother was living with another man in Germany and that a child was born to them in 1914. The daughter returned to this country in 1914. She identified the signature of her mother on the return of notice sent by mail to Germany.

Henry J. Rathmackers of Mystic, for whom his daughter, Maria, interpreted in the German language, testified that he went after his wife in Germany and asked her to come back and that he sent her $500. She kept the money, but declined to come back. He said they were married in Germany on May 4, 1895.

Judge Bennett granted the divorce on the grounds of desertion and also gave custody of the daughter, though he remarked she was old enough to choose her own guardian.

Soldier Loved Other Women.

The last case on the list to be taken up was that of Vivian Carter Mosby of New London, against D. Y. Mosby, who was a sergeant in the army at Fort Trumbull.

They were married on June 3, 1905, in New London, and he left his wife on Oct. 29, 1907, the night he got his discharge from the army, she said. Where he is now she does not know, though in the divorce petition his address is given as Uniontown, Ky. There are two daughters, one 8 and one 7 years old.

Mrs. Mosby was asked by her counsel, Attorney Smith, if she had her marriage certificate and a piece of paper which she said was it and that she had got it out of a pile of rubbish in the yard where the husband had thrown it when he left.

Asked why it was that her husband left her, the petitioner said she had gone west to marry another woman. She had a letter from him in Kansas which told her of this and she read the letter in court. It was torn by one of her little girls a short time ago, she said, and she put the pieces together on the table by the side of the judge's desk in order to read it.

She explained, too, that before she and her husband were married he was going with the daughter of a wealthy railroad magnate named Gano in Montreal, but that the father of the girl would not let her marry a soldier. The girl kept writing to him and he was married to this petitioner and when her husband left her Mrs. Mosby felt sure he would go to see the Montreal girl.

Remarks for the good of the chamber were heard from the following: Charles H. Preston, Abner Schwartz, J. E. Vaughan, Robert McNeely and D. T. Shea of the housing committee. Secretary Pearson announced that the next meeting of the eastern Connecticut development committee is to be held in Norwich early in December. Adjournment was then taken and those present enjoyed light refreshments. The committee in charge of the refreshments comprised W. A. Somers, chairman, Frank G. Aubrey and C. S. Fairclough.

The board of directors, with the officers, comprises the executive committee with a membership of 17. The directors who have another year to serve are C. E. Wulf, William E. Woods, J. A. Hiccox, J. E. Fanning and E. C. Jewett.

Looking After Moving Picture Houses.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 12.—Superintendent of State Police Thomas P. Egan has returned from a trip through the state on business in connection with the enforcement of the law relating to the licensing of moving picture places. Under the law passed at the last session of the general assembly a license must be taken out for such place in which these entertainments are given. The license fee is $20 and there are about 250 places in the state. The superintendent has entire charge of the administration of the laws and issues the licenses.

Second Church Supper.

About 100 were served at the regular missionary supper at the Second Congregational church Friday evening at 6.30 o'clock. Those on the committee in charge were Mrs. Chauncey A. Sherman, Mrs. Arthur M. Thompson, Mrs. John Hill and Mrs. William D. Ricker. They were assisted by a number of the young ladies of the Campfire Girls.

Will Be at 20 Lafayette Street—Postmaster Murphy Secures Service.

Postmaster Murphy has received several requests from residents of the Falls section for a postal station in that locality and upon his recommendation, the department has ordered a station, established at 20 Lafayette street, which is in Cunningham's block. It is to be known as Station No. 8 and will be for the sale of stamps, receipt of registered matter, and to issue money orders.

The establishment of this station will be greatly appreciated by the people of that section, as there has been no accommodation for mailing facilities since the station which was formerly at the corner of Sachem and Oneco streets was abolished, some years ago.

Herbert S. Young, for a great many years clerk in charge of the Norwich Town branch, having sold his business to William Smith, forwarded his resignation to Postmaster Murphy on October 21st, and the new proprietor, William Smith, has been appointed clerk in charge to fill the vacancy, and will personally see that the patrons of that station receive all the benefits of the service.
